Description of Advisory Firm

Focused Up Financial, LLC is a fee-only financial planning firm that specializes in holistic financial planning services to individuals and families. We were founded in November 2017. Charles Horonzy is the principal owner of FUF.

We offer a comprehensive blend of financial services. Specifically, we provide services to meet your investment needs, as well as integrate tax, estate planning, risk management, retirement planning, and business development services into our planning work together.

FUF will enter into an agreement with clients which details the scope of the relationship and responsibilities of both FUF and the client. Advice and services provided under the agreement are tailored to the stated objectives of the client.

FUF does not sell insurance or investment products and does not accept commissions for any product recommendations. FUF does not pay referral or finder's fees, nor does it accept such fees from other firms.

Types of Advisory Services

Ongoing Financial Advising

We provide financial planning services on topics such as retirement planning, risk management, college savings, cash flow, debt management, work benefits, and estate and incapacity planning.

Financial planning is a comprehensive evaluation of a client's current and future financial state by using currently known variables to predict future cash flows, asset values and withdrawal plans. The key defining aspect of financial planning is that through the financial planning process, all questions, information and analysis will be considered as they affect and are affected by the entire financial and life situation of the client.

In general, financial planning will address any or all of the following areas of concern. The client and advisor will work together to select the specific areas to cover. These areas may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Business Planning: We provide consulting services for clients who currently operate their own business, are considering starting a business, or are planning for an exit from their current business. Under this type of engagement, we work with you to assess your current situation, identify your objectives, and develop a plan aimed at achieving your goals.
- Cash Flow and Debt Management: We will conduct a review of your income and expenses to determine your current surplus or deficit along with advice on prioritizing how any surplus should be used or how to reduce expenses if they exceed your income. Advice may also be provided on which debts to pay off first based on factors such as the interest rate of the debt and any income tax ramifications. We may also recommend what we believe to be an appropriate cash reserve that should be considered for emergencies and other financial goals, along with a review of accounts (such as money market funds) for such reserves, plus strategies to save desired amounts.

- College Savings: Includes projecting the amount that will be needed to achieve college or other post-secondary education funding goals, along with advice on ways for you to save the desired amount. Recommendations as to savings strategies are included, and, if needed, we will review your financial picture as it relates to eligibility for financial aid or the best way to contribute to grandchildren (if appropriate).
- Employee Benefits Optimization: We will provide review and analysis as to whether you, as an employee, are taking the maximum advantage possible of your employee benefits. If you are a business owner, we will consider and/or recommend the various benefit programs that can be structured to meet both business and personal retirement goals.
- Estate Planning: This usually includes an analysis of your exposure to estate taxes and your current estate plan, which may include whether you have a will, powers of attorney, trusts and other related documents. Our advice also typically includes ways for you to minimize or avoid future estate taxes by implementing appropriate estate planning strategies such as the use of applicable trusts.

We always recommend that you consult with a qualified attorney when you initiate, update, or complete estate planning activities. We may provide you with contact information for attorneys who specialize in estate planning when you wish to hire an attorney for such purposes. From time-to-time, we will participate in meetings or phone calls between you and your attorney with your approval or request.

- Financial Goals: We will help clients identify financial goals and develop a plan to reach them. We will identify what you plan to accomplish, what resources you will need to make it happen, how much time you will need to reach the goal, and how much you should budget for your goal.
- Insurance: Review of existing policies to ensure proper coverage for life, health, disability, long-term care, liability, home, and automobile.
- Investment Analysis: This may involve developing an asset allocation strategy to meet clients' financial goals and risk tolerance, providing information on investment vehicles and strategies, reviewing employee stock options, as well as assisting you in establishing your own investment account at a selected broker/dealer or custodian. The strategies and types of investments we may recommend are further discussed in Item 8 of this brochure.

- Retirement Planning: Our retirement planning services typically include projections of your likelihood of achieving your financial goals, typically focusing on financial independence as the primary objective. For situations where projections show less than the desired results, we may make recommendations, including those that may impact the original projections by adjusting certain variables (e.g., working longer, saving more, spending less, taking more risk with investments).

If you are near retirement or already retired, advice may be given on appropriate distribution strategies to minimize the likelihood of running out of money or having to adversely alter spending during your retirement years.

- Risk Management: A risk management review includes an analysis of your exposure to major risks that could have a significant adverse impact on your financial picture, such as premature death, disability, property and casualty losses, or the need for long-term care planning. Advice may be provided on ways to minimize such risks and about weighing the costs of purchasing insurance versus the benefits of doing so and, likewise, the potential cost of not purchasing insurance (“self-insuring”).
- Tax Planning Strategies: Advice may include ways to minimize current and future income taxes as a part of your overall financial planning picture. For example, we may make recommendations on which type of account(s) or specific investments should be owned based in part on their “tax efficiency,” with consideration that there is always a possibility of future changes to federal, state or local tax laws and rates that may impact your situation.

We recommend that you consult with a qualified tax professional before initiating any tax planning strategy, and we may provide you with contact information for accountants or attorneys who specialize in this area if you wish to hire someone for such purposes. We will participate in meetings or phone calls between you and your tax professional with your approval.

- Tax Preparation Services: Federal 1040 and personal State returns can be prepared in conjunction with Comprehensive Financial Planning. Stand-alone tax preparation services are also offered, which includes preparation of Federal and State returns.

This service involves working one-on-one with a planner over an extended period of time. By paying a monthly or quarterly fee, clients get to work with a planner who will work with them to design and implement their plan. The planner will monitor the plan, recommend any changes, and ensure the plan is up to date.

Upon desiring financial planning, a client will be taken through establishing their goals and values around money. They will be required to provide information to help complete the following areas of analysis, which may include, but not limited to: net worth, cash flow, insurance, credit scores/reports, employee benefit, retirement planning, insurance, investments, college planning and estate planning. Once the client’s information is reviewed, the planner and client will have a series of meetings to review the analysis and recommendations to their situation. Throughout the engagement potential changes to their current situation will be reviewed with the client and modifications may be recommended. Clients subscribing to this service will receive written or electronic recommendations, to achieve his or her stated financial goals and objectives. If follow up meetings are required, we will meet at the client's convenience. The recommendations and the client's financial situation and goals will be monitored throughout the year through planner and client's meetings.

Portfolio Management Services

Our firm provides advice to a client regarding the investment of client funds based on the individual needs of the client. Through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on a client's particular circumstances are established, we develop an investment plan. We will also review and discuss a client's prior investment history as pertinent, as well as family composition and background. Our firm reviews these portfolios on a periodic basis, as needed.

Sub Advisors

For investment management services, we will refer clients to third-party investment advisers ("Sub Advisors") for the management of Client accounts. We assist Clients in selecting an appropriate allocation model, completing the Sub Advisor's investor profile questionnaire, interacting with the Sub Advisor and reviewing the appropriateness of the Sub Advisor's management of the client's account(s). We will meet with the Client on a periodic basis to discuss changes in their personal or financial situation, suitability, and any new or revised restrictions to be applied to the account and communicate that to the Sub Advisor.

Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors. Prior to recommending the use of a third-party portfolio manager for any client, FUF will always consider the client's best interest in accordance with FUF's duties as a fiduciary.

Financial Review

Financial Review services are narrower in scope and usually focus on one or two of the following areas: goal setting, asset/liability analysis, tax planning, cash flow management, investment review, retirement planning, risk management, estate planning and record keeping. This is a single engagement meeting where the Firm has a set topic of discussion relating to financial planning or the client identifies their two biggest financial concerns for the review and planner addresses them in a 60-90 minute meeting. At the end of the 60-90 minute meeting, the planner and client will have discussed client-specific recommendations that the client implements independently. Client may also receive a summary of recommendations after the Financial Review. The planner typically spends one to four hours preparing for this appointment and 60-90 minutes meeting with the client. A Financial Review does not constitute a comprehensive financial planning engagement. Implementation assistance is not provided following the completion of the meeting. Client may follow up within 14 days after the Financial Review to get further clarity and advice on set topic or the two financial concerns identified in the Financial Review.

Educational Seminars

We may provide seminars on an "as announced" basis for groups seeking general advice on investments and other areas of personal finance. The content of these seminars will vary depending upon the needs of the attendees. These seminars are purely educational in nature and do not involve the sale of any investment products. Information presented will not be based on any individual's person's need, nor does FUF provide individualized investment advice to attendees during these seminars.

Employee Benefit Plan Services

Our firm provides employee benefit plan services to employer plan sponsors on an ongoing basis. Generally, such services consist of assisting employer plan sponsors in establishing, monitoring, and reviewing their company's participant-directed retirement plan. As the needs of the plan sponsor dictate, areas of advising could include: investment options, plan structure, and participant education. In providing employee benefit plan services, our firm does not provide any advisory services with respect to the following types of assets: employer securities, real estate (excluding real estate funds and publicly traded REITS), participant loans, non-publicly traded securities or assets, other illiquid investments, or brokerage window programs (collectively, "Excluded Assets").

Client Tailored Services

We offer the same suite of services to all of our clients. However, specific client financial planning recommendations and their implementation are dependent upon the client's situation and may vary from client to client.

Fractional Chief Financial Officer Services (fCFO)

Through its Fractional CFO Engagement, Focused Up Financial, LLC provides comprehensive and strategic financial planning and bookkeeping services pursuant to a written fCFO Agreement, typically for businesses with over $250,000 annual revenue and 1-10 employees without a dedicated internal Chief Financial Officer. For this service, the business is the client, with the owner (or other individual designated by the owner) as our main point of contact. Services are customized to the business's financial situation, its goals, and objectives. In general, business clients will have regularly scheduled meetings during the term of the engagement, depending on their business situation and needs. In our Fractional CFO services, clients are not billed for any third-party subscription services required. All costs needed for the execution of the service are billed to and fully paid by Focused Up Financial, LLC. In addition to scheduled meetings, face-to-face, email, and/or phone consultations are also provided as needed. Fractional CFO services will address any or all of the following areas of concern:

- Monthly Bookkeeping
- Invoice creation and follow-up
 - Business Owner financial questions
- Business Owner tax strategies
- Disregarded Entity (Schedule C) Tax Preparation and filings, with audit support

The owner of our typical fCFO service will also become an Ongoing Financial Advising client, allowing us to coordinate the business and personal financial planning more effectively, although this is not a requirement.

Wrap Fee Programs

We do not participate in wrap fee programs.

How we are paid depends on the type of advisory service we are performing. Please review the fee and compensation information below.

Ongoing Financial Advising / Open Retainer

FUF’s advisory fee is payable quarterly in advance and calculated using the value of the Account(s) as of the last Business Day of the previous calendar quarter. If this Agreement begins on a date other than the first day of a calendar quarter, the initial fee charged is calculated from the Effective Date of the Agreement to the ending date of the current calendar quarter. No startup fee is charged. FUF collects this initial quarter’s fee at the time the first full quarter’s fee is charged using the value of the Assets on the last Business Day of the quarter.

Sub Advisor Fee: Clients will incur an additional fee from the Sub Advisor for investment management services. The Sub Advisor’s fee is separate and in addition to FUF’s fee. The Sub Advisor’s services and fee will be set forth in the advisory agreement and disclosure brochure the client receives from the Sub Advisor. Clients need to take into account both FUF and any Sub-Advisor’s fee for the total advisory fee being paid.

Payment of Ongoing Financial Advising Fee

Direct payment to FUF is required when there is insufficient funds in a client’s account for payment of FUF’s fee. Fractional CFO Services (fCFO)

Other Types of Fees and Expenses

Our fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which may be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, and other third parties such as custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual fund and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to our fee, and we shall not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Item 12 further describes the factors that we consider in selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client's transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g., commissions).

We do not accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds.

Fees at Termination

Client or Adviser can terminate an agreement for any reason with written notice to the other party. In a termination, fees will be owed and payable for the time services were provided in the quarter prior to termination. For calculating any unearned fee, Adviser uses the Account(s) value from the day of termination and pro-rates the fee based on the number of days services were provided in the calendar quarter prior to termination. Any advance fee paid that remains unearned at the time of termination will be refunded promptly to the client.

Adviser specifically reserves the right to terminate an engagement without advance notice if a client fails to pay fees in a timely manner, intentionally provides false or misleading information, or fails to cooperate with a request by FUF to provide information necessary to perform the services required under the agreement.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

We do not offer performance-based fees.

Item 7: Types of Clients

We provide financial planning and portfolio management services to individuals, high net-worth individuals, and corporations or other businesses.

We do not have a minimum account size requirement but do impose a minimum fee for our retainer advisory services.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

When clients have us complete an Investment Analysis (described in Item 4 of this brochure) as part of their financial plan, or when we perform Investment Supervisory services for clients, our primary methods of investment analysis are fundamental analysis and passive investment management.

Fundamental analysis involves analyzing individual companies and their industry groups, such as a company's financial statements, details regarding the company's product line, the experience, and expertise of the company's management, and the outlook for the company's industry. Analysis may also include the use of Morningstar, financial newspapers and magazines, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, annual reports, and prospectuses. The resulting data is used to measure the true value of the company's stock compared to the current market value. The risk of fundamental analysis is that information obtained may be incorrect and the analysis may not provide an accurate estimate of earnings, which may be the basis for a stock's value. If securities prices adjust rapidly to new information, utilizing fundamental analysis may not result in favorable performance.

Passive Investment Management

We primarily practice passive investment management. Passive investing involves building portfolios that are comprised of various distinct asset classes. The asset classes are weighted in a manner to achieve a desired relationship between correlation, risk, and return. Funds that passively capture the returns of the desired asset classes are placed in the portfolio. The funds that are used to build passive portfolios are typically index mutual funds or exchange traded funds.

Passive investment management is characterized by low portfolio expenses (i.e. the funds inside the portfolio have low internal costs), minimal trading costs (due to infrequent trading activity), and relative tax efficiency (because the funds inside the portfolio are tax efficient and turnover inside the portfolio is minimal).

In contrast, active management involves a single manager or managers who employ some method, strategy, or technique to construct a portfolio that is intended to generate returns that are greater than the broader market or a designated benchmark. Academic research indicates most active managers underperform the market.

Material Risks Involved

All investing strategies we offer involve risk and may result in a loss of your original investment which you should be prepared to bear. Many of these risks apply equally to stocks, bonds, commodities and any other investment or security. Material risks associated with our investment strategies are listed below.

Market Risk: Market risk involves the possibility that an investment's current market value will fall because of a general market decline, reducing the value of the investment regardless of the operational success of the issuer's operations or its financial condition.

Small and Medium Cap Company Risk: Securities of companies with small and medium market capitalizations are often more volatile and less liquid than investments in larger companies. Small and medium cap companies may face a greater risk of business failure, which could increase the volatility of the client's portfolio.

Turnover Risk: At times, the strategy may have a portfolio turnover rate that is higher than other strategies. A high portfolio turnover would result in correspondingly greater brokerage commission expenses and may result in the distribution of additional capital gains for tax purposes. These factors may negatively affect the account's performance.

Interest Rate Risk: Bond (fixed income) prices generally fall when interest rates rise, and the value may fall below par value or the principal investment. The opposite is also generally true: bond prices generally rise when interest rates fall. In general, fixed income securities with longer maturities are more sensitive to these price changes. Most other investments are also sensitive to the level and direction of interest rates.

Inflation Risk: Inflation may erode the buying-power of your investment portfolio, even if the dollar value of your investments remains the same.

Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.

Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.

Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.

Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not. Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Risks Associated with Securities

Apart from the general risks outlined above which apply to all types of investments, specific securities may have other risks.

Common stocks may go up and down in price quite dramatically, and in the event of an issuer's bankruptcy or restructuring could lose all value. A slower-growth or recessionary economic environment could have an adverse effect on the price of all stocks.

Corporate Bonds are debt securities to borrow money. Generally, issuers pay investors periodic interest and repay the amount borrowed either periodically during the life of the security and/or at maturity. Alternatively, investors can purchase other debt securities, such as zero-coupon bonds, which do not pay current interest, but rather are priced at a discount from their face values and their values accrete over time to face value at maturity. The market prices of debt securities fluctuate depending on such factors as interest rates, credit quality, and maturity. In general, market prices of debt securities decline when interest rates rise and increase when interest rates fall. The longer the time to a bond's maturity, the greater its interest rate risk.

Municipal Bonds are debt obligations generally issued to obtain funds for various public purposes, including the construction of public facilities. Municipal bonds pay a lower rate of return than most other types of bonds. However, because of a municipal bonds' tax-favored status, investors should compare the relative after-tax return to the after-tax return of other bonds, depending on the investor's tax bracket. Investing in municipal bonds carries the same general risks as investing in bonds in general. Those risks include interest rate risk, reinvestment risk, inflation risk, market risk, call or redemption risk, credit risk, and liquidity and valuation risk.

Options and other derivatives carry many unique risks, including time-sensitivity, and can result in the complete loss of principal. While covered call writing does provide a partial hedge to the stock against which the call is written, the hedge is limited to the amount of cash flow received when writing the option. When selling covered calls, there is a risk the underlying position may be called away at a price lower than the current market price.

Exchange Traded Funds prices may vary significantly from the Net Asset Value due to market conditions. Certain Exchange Traded Funds may not track underlying benchmarks as expected. ETFs are also subject to the following risks: (i) an ETF's shares may trade at a market price that is above or below their net asset value; (ii) the ETF may employ an investment strategy that utilizes high leverage ratios; or (iii) trading of an ETF's shares may be halted if the listing exchange's officials deem such action appropriate, the shares are de-listed from the exchange, or the activation of market-wide "circuit breakers" (which are tied to large decreases in stock prices) halts stock trading generally. The Adviser has no control over the risks taken by the underlying funds in which client's invest.

Investment Companies Risk. When a client invests in open end mutual funds or ETFs, the client indirectly bears its proportionate share of any fees and expenses payable directly by those funds. Therefore, the client will incur higher expenses, many of which may be duplicative. In addition, the client's overall portfolio may be affected by losses of an underlying fund and the level of risk arising from the investment practices of an underlying fund (such as the use of derivatives).

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

Criminal or Civil Actions

FUF and its management have not been involved in any criminal or civil action.

Administrative Enforcement Proceedings

FUF and its management have not been involved in administrative enforcement proceedings.

Self-Regulatory Organization Enforcement Proceedings

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

No FUF employee is registered, or have an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer or a registered representative of a broker-dealer.

No FUF employee is registered, or have an application pending to register, as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator or a commodity trading advisor. FUF does not have any related parties. As a result, we do not have a relationship with any related parties.

FUF only receives compensation directly from clients. We do not receive compensation from any outside source. We do not have any conflicts of interest with any outside party.

The Sub Advisor that we recommend for clients' accounts is Asset Dedication, LLC, a SEC registered investment adviser. Asset Dedication is not affiliated, nor jointly owned with the Firm. If we use an external manager to create and maintain a client's investment account, we will first ensure that their firm is appropriately registered and/or notice-filed within your state of residence.

Asset Dedication also provides FUF with back-office consolidated billing services. The agreement between the firm and Asset Dedication contains discounts for these services based upon the level of client assets the firm places with Asset Dedication. This discount in pricing creates a conflict of interest between FUF and the client when recommending Asset Dedication due to the firm's incentive to receive the discount in pricing for Asset Dedication's back-office services. Prior to recommending any independent third-party investment manager for any client, the firm will always consider the client's best interest consistent with its fiduciary duty.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

The firm also adheres to the Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility adopted by the CFP® Board of Standards Inc. and accepts the obligation not only to comply with the mandates and requirements of all applicable laws and regulations but also to take responsibility to act in an ethical and professionally responsible manner in all professional services and activities.

Code of Ethics Description

This code does not attempt to identify all possible conflicts of interest, and literal compliance with each of its specific provisions will not shield associated persons from liability for personal trading or other conduct that violates a fiduciary duty to advisory clients. A summary of the Code of Ethics' Principles is outlined below.

- Integrity - Associated persons shall offer and provide professional services with integrity.
- Objectivity - Associated persons shall be objective in providing professional services to clients.
- Competence - Associated persons shall provide services to clients competently and maintain the necessary knowledge and skill to continue to do so in those areas in which they are engaged.
- Fairness - Associated persons shall perform professional services in a manner that is fair and reasonable to clients, principals, partners, and employers, and shall disclose conflict(s) of interest in providing such services.
- Confidentiality - Associated persons shall not disclose confidential client information without the specific consent of the client unless in response to proper legal process, or as required by law.
- Professionalism - Associated persons' conduct in all matter shall reflect credit of the profession.
- Diligence - Associated persons shall act diligently in providing professional services.

We periodically review and amend our Code of Ethics to ensure that it remains current, and we require all firm access persons to attest to their understanding of and adherence to the Code of Ethics at least annually. Our firm will provide of copy of its Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

Investment Recommendations Involving a Material Financial Interest and Conflicts of Interest

Neither our firm, its associates or any related person is authorized to recommend to a client, or effect a transaction for a client, involving any security in which our firm or a related person has a material financial interest, such as in the capacity as an underwriter, adviser to the issuer, etc.

Advisory Firm Purchase of Same Securities Recommended to Clients and Conflicts of Interest

Our firm and its "related persons" do not invest in the same securities, or related securities, e.g., warrants, options or futures, which we recommend to clients.

Trading Securities At/Around the Same Time as Client's Securities

Because our firm and its "related persons" do not invest in the same securities, or related securities, e.g., warrants, options or futures, which we recommend to clients, we do not trade in securities at or around the same time as clients.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Factors Used to Select Custodians and/or Broker-Dealers

Focused Up Financial, LLC does not have any affiliation with Broker-Dealers. Specific custodian recommendations are made to client based on their need for such services. We recommend custodians based on the reputation and services provided by the firm. Focused Up Financial, LLC has a custodial relationship with Schwab Institutional Services and Fidelity through its relationship with Asset Dedication. Focused Up Financial, LLC DOES NOT receive fees or commissions from any of these arrangements.

1. Research and Other Soft-Dollar Benefits

FUF does not receive soft dollar benefits from service providers. There is no direct link between the firm's participation in any custodian's institutional customer program and the investment advice it gives to its clients.

2. Brokerage for Client Referrals

We receive no referrals from a broker-dealer or third party in exchange for using that broker-dealer or third party.

3. Clients Directing Which Broker/Dealer/Custodian to Use

We do recommend a specific custodian for clients to use, however, clients may custody their assets at a custodian of their choice subject to FUF and the Sub Advisor having access to the account at that custodian. Clients may also direct us to use a specific broker-dealer to execute transactions. By allowing clients to choose a specific custodian, we may be unable to achieve most favorable execution of client transaction and this may cost clients money over using a lower-cost custodian. Clients may also pay higher brokerage commissions or the client may receive less favorable prices.

Aggregating (Block) Trading for Multiple Client Accounts

Investment advisers may elect to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time when they believe such action may prove advantageous to clients. This process is referred to as aggregating orders, batch trading or block trading. We do not engage in block trading, but our Sub Advisor may do so, and disclosures appear in the Sub Advisor's Disclosure Brochure for how they conduct block trading in client accounts

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Charles Horonzy, Principal and CCO of FUF, will work with clients to obtain current information regarding their assets and investment holdings and will review this information as part of our financial planning services.

Client accounts with the Investment Management Service will be reviewed regularly on a quarterly basis by Charles Horonzy, Principal and CCO. The account is reviewed with regards to the client's investment policies and risk tolerance levels. Events that may trigger a special review would be unusual performance, addition or deletions of client-imposed restrictions, excessive draw-down, volatility in performance, or buy and sell decisions from the firm or per client's needs.

Clients will receive trade confirmations from the broker(s) for each transaction in their accounts as well as monthly or quarterly statements and annual tax reporting statements from their custodian showing all activity in the accounts, such as receipt of dividends and interest.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We do not receive any economic benefit, directly or indirectly, from any third party for advice rendered to our clients. Nor do we, directly or indirectly, compensate any person who is not advisory personnel for client referrals.

Item 15: Custody

FUF does not accept custody of client funds except in the instance of withdrawing client fees.

For client accounts in which FUF directly debits their advisory fee:

- The client's account will be held at an independent qualified custodian;
- The custodian will send at least quarterly statements to the client showing all disbursements for the account, including the amount of the advisory fee, and;
- The client will provide written authorization to FUF, permitting them to be paid directly for their accounts held by the custodian.

Clients should receive at least quarterly statements from the broker dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains client's investment assets. We urge you to carefully review such statements and compare such official custodial records to the account statements or reports that we may provide to you. Our statements or reports may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

For those client accounts where we provide investment management services, we manage client accounts on a discretionary basis with respect to securities to be bought and sold and the amount of securities to be bought and sold.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

We do not vote Client proxies. Therefore, Clients maintain exclusive responsibility for: (1) voting proxies, and (2) acting on corporate actions pertaining to the Client's investment assets. The Client shall instruct the Client's qualified custodian to forward to the Client copies of all proxies and shareholder communications relating to the Client's investment assets. If the client would like our opinion on a particular proxy vote, they may contact us at the number listed on the cover of this brochure. In most cases, you will receive proxy materials directly from the account custodian. However, in the event we were to receive any written or electronic proxy materials, we would forward them directly to you by mail, unless you have authorized our firm to contact you by electronic mail, in which case, we would forward you any electronic solicitation to vote proxies.

Item 18: Financial Information

Registered Investment Advisers are required in this Item to provide you with certain financial information or disclosures about our financial condition. We have no financial commitment that impairs our ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients, and we have not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.

CFP (Certified Financial Planner)®: The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 71,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;

- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one’s ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one’s knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board’s enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.
